MACLEOD GETS AT LEAST TWO ROADS

Provincial Government Guarantee Bonds to Extent of $13,000 Per Mile. Policy Endorsed Without Opposition.

Macleod will receive at least two more lines of railways by bills to guarantee bonds for $13,000 a mile. The lines mentioned as receiving the government guarantee are as follows:

Grand Trunk Pacific, Watrous to Calgary, Calgary to Coutts, 451 miles.

From line between Calgary and Lethbridge, to Macleod, 40 miles of these 150 must be completed this year.

Canadian Northern railway, from Strathcona to Calgary, to Lethbridge, 355 miles, with branch line to Vegreville from Bitter Lake 50 miles; branch from crossing of the Little Bow and Belly through Macleod to the southern boundary, 110 miles.

Branch from this line to western boundary, 20 miles.

Branch from near Cardston to western boundary, 35 miles.

Line from Vermilion to Whitford lake, 40 miles.

From Morinville east, 40 miles.

From Edmonton towards Peace river, 50 miles.

From Morinville to Athabasca Landing, 65 miles.

From Content west through Red Deer, 60 miles of these 125 miles must be completed this year.

No control of rates on either G.T.P. or C.N.R.

Also guarantee of $20,000 a mile of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway company for line from Edmonton to Fort McMurray with $400,000 for terminals. This private company is promoted by W. R. Clarke, of Kansas City, and William Bain, Winnipeg.

There was no opposition to the policy advanced by the government, the members voting as a unit in support of the measure. It is certainly one of the most comprehensive and far-reaching enactments passed by any legislature in the entire Dominion and when the policy is completely carried out will result in a net work of railroads covering the entire province.

Southern Alberta fares well indeed and Macleod comes in for a goodly share of increased facilities. That two lines will pass through here is assured beyond a doubt and that there will be more in the near future is almost equally a certainty.

PROPOSED C.N.R. ROUTES

The routes of the C.N.R. lines which will tap Southern Alberta are defined as follows in the bill now before the legislature:

A line from a point at or near Strathcona in a generally southerly direction via Calgary, to the confluence of the Little Bow and Belly rivers; thence in a southwesterly direction to a point at or near Lethbridge, with a branch line from a point near Bitter Lake in a northeasterly direction to, at, or near Vegreville. Also a branch line from or near the crossing of the Little Bow river, Southerly via Macleod, to the southern boundary of the province of Alberta. Also a branch line from a point on the last mentioned branch line between Macleod and the point where the said last mentioned branch line crosses the Belly river in a generally westerly direction to the western boundary of the province. Also a branch line from a point between Cardston and the southern boundary of the province on one of the branch lines hereinbefore mentioned, in a general westerly direction to the western boundary of the province.

GONE TO REST

Wray Richard Genge, the eldest son of Colin and Annie Genge, died Sunday at 8:15 p. m., after a brief illness.

The deceased had been suffering from attacks of epilepsy for many years, which were brought on as the result of scarlet fever when he was only a boy of eleven years. Lately he has not been feeling very well and on Tuesday morning, the 6th inst., hemorrhage of the brain took place, which speedily rendered him unconscious. Since that time he has been rapidly growing weaker until death came to relieve him.

The funeral was held in the Roman Catholic church at 10:30 Tuesday morning. A large number of friends of the family attended the services. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved parents.

WHEAT SHIPMENTS

The following are the wheat shipments from Macleod and surrounding flag stations from the 1908 crop up to date:

Station	Cars	Bu.
Macleod	215	272,610
Pearce	42	42,876
West Macleod	35	29,110
Kipp	20	19,798
Total	312	364,394

The farmers are probably holding from 40,000 to 50,000 bushels, making a grand total of over 400,000 bushels of wheat raised in 1908.

A QUEER ACT

W. R. Graham of Coleman, is probably in a bad box on account of a ridiculous act committed in the law office of J. W. McDonald today. It appears that Mr. McDonald held an opinion on some property of Graham's and the latter called to discuss business therewith. Mr. McDonald turned from his desk for a moment when Graham took the opinion from the desk and tearing it into pieces, thrust the parts into his pocket absolutely refusing to return them, and leaving the office with the document still in his possession.

A warrant was sworn out charging him with theft and the man was arrested by Inspector Camies and taken to the barracks. The offence is a serious one and may result badly for Graham.

ANOTHER SETTLER

A Mr. Reid of Orangeville, Ont., arrived in Macleod this week with a car load of settler's effects, being just seven days on the road. Mr. Reid will locate on a half section a few miles out. He speaks very highly of this section of the country and by his act in locating here he demonstrates that he means what he says.

LIBERAL CONVENTION

Chairman Grady of the Macleod Liberal Association has called a convention for Wednesday, March 3, at 2 p. m. to select a candidate to contest this constituency in the coming provincial election in the interests of the Rutherford government.

BOARD OF TRADE GET BUSY AGAIN

A. F. Grady, President. Appoint Committee to Get a Newspaper for Macleod. Routine Business

The Board of Trade held its annual meeting Monday evening. President I. Hale in the chair. The following officers and committees were elected for the ensuing year:

President, A. F. Grady.
Vice-President, A. P. van Someren.
Secretary Treasurer, E. F. Brown.
Council—Beap & Macleod, F. W. B. George, Adams & Hilliard, I. Hale, E. Doberer.

George van Someren and Grady were appointed a committee to interview Town Council and ask them for a grant to carry on board work for 1909.

Hicks, Adams, Hale and Struthers were appointed a committee to memorialize the government to open the eastern part of the Peigan reserve.

The council of the board were requested to draft a resolution endorsing the action of the Town Council in taking up the matter of diverting the river to its original channel.

Doberer and Mathews were appointed to take up the matter of a newspaper for the town.

The annual fee was placed at one dollar.

A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring president, I. Hale.

The secretary in his report touched up the members for non-attendance; referred to the satisfactory exhibit at the Dominion fair; the agricultural department, "dry belt" circular; visit of the two parties of editors; lack of funds for advertising purposes; advertising literature was now exhausted and more should be secured; $1242 has been expended during the year.

BUILDING BOOM

Every indication points to a building boom this season. A number of plans are being prepared for business blocks and residences already and more are to follow. The first evidence on Main street is the hauling of brick for G. MacDonnell's new office building.

ALBERTA'S C. P. R. LAND TAXATION

In 1881, when 25,000,000 acres were granted to the C.P.R. by the Ottawa Tory government, one clause of the contract made this land exempt from taxation for twenty years. In 1901, on the expiration of this period, the C.P.R. resisted the collection of taxes. They claimed that the exemption clause intended there should be no taxation until twenty years after the company had taken patent for the land. This meant the claim of another period of twenty years' exemption.

A couple of actions were taken against the C.P.R. in Manitoba on its refusal after 1901 to pay taxes on its land. These cases were carried to the supreme court at Ottawa. The judgment there was in favor of the C.P.R. No appeal was made. The case as far as Manitoba is concerned, rests there. It won't be raised again by the Roblin government. All know why who know what corporation controls that ministry.

Alberta has a government that is influenced by consideration of nothing but the interests of Alberta. These interests require the C.P.R. lands to be taxed—if it can be done. We think it can.

Mr. Cross, Alberta's shrewd young attorney-general, assisted materially by Malcolm McKenzie, soon discovered that branch lines of the C.P.R. were not legally free from taxation, though the Haultain administration left them free. The result is that Alberta's treasury now yearly receives over 60,000 from the C.P.R. Now here the united Alberta government means to match itself newly against this strong corporation.

There is now being prepared in the department of the attorney-general, under his direct supervision, the brief in a case similar to those brought by the Dominion government to collect taxes on land holdings.

As Mr. Cross stated in a speech at Calgary last May: "THE GOVERNMENT HERE BELIEVES THERE ARE CONTENTIONS TO BE MADE WHICH HAVE NEVER BEEN PRESENT-ED IN ANY COURT OF JUSTICE, AND WE PROPOSE TO START A FRESH ACTION. WE WILL TAKE IT TO THE PRIVY COUNCIL IN ENGLAND IF NECESSARY, AND HAVE THE MATTER DECIDED ONCE FOR ALL. IT IS A VERY IMPORTANT MATTER, BECAUSE IT MEANS THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN TAXES TO THIS PROVINCE."

Albertans have reason, more than 60,000 good reasons every year, to know the astuteness and ability of their attorney general. His cleverness and firmness in regard to combines have not been forgotten. We confidently expect a lot of good money from his action for C.P.R. land taxation.

Keep this in mind when you see the kept men of the big company trying to beat the Rutherford government. What a fine time the C.P.R. Co. would have had in Alberta, had the electors made the C.P.R.'s Calgary solicitor, Mr. R. B. Bennett, premier in 1905.

What a lovely time the C.P.R. would have in Alberta hereafter if a C.P.R. still hunt were successful in 1909. Any puppet would serve the big concern as well as one of its solicitors. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy has learned much political wisdom. He does not now go hunting with a brass band.

RIDERS OF THE PLAINS

By D. L. MUDIMAN, MACLEOD.

What history has recorded
To this great corps of men,
To what extent will ne'er be known
The credit due to them;
Five and thirty years have passed
Since we heard the name
Of that noble band of mounted men,
The Riders of the Plain.

Nor west mounted police were they,
And but three hundred strong,
They left their homes to guard the west,

Their trackless paths were long;
To establish law and order
And link their national chain
Was the ever well borne duty of
The Riders of the Plain.

This great lone land they guarded
And established peace to the,
Restrained the lawless savage,
Black Foot, Peigan, Blood and Cree.
The dangers they encountered
Were met with bold disdain,
Their duty first and always
The Riders of the Plain.

For many a trooper gave his life,
In defence of this great land
From Wood mountain on the east
To where the Rockies stand,
Lake Athabaska on the North
Throughout this great domain,
Were held in check the lawless men by
The Riders of the Plain.

Then came the Riel Rebellion
Of eighteen eighty-five,
The wily Crees and sullen Meties
Fighting side by side;
They were met with dauntless courage
Though man and horse were slain,
But emerged with British triumph
The Riders of the Plain.

They faced the northern blizzard,
And yet the mountain stream
Were crossed in face of danger,

Man and beast to death would seem;
How steady their steeds they guided,
Responding to spur and reign,
Came emerging from the torrent,
The Riders of the Plain.

The crafty Indian outlaw,
After deeds of many kinds,
Was loath to come a captive,
In brush and coulee hides;
But last his hopes are waning,
Death, to capture is his aim,
Pursued from every quarter by,
The Rider of the Plain.

Spur up, Spur up you riders,
Charcoal, the fugitive is in sight,
His capture we must compass,
Before the fall of light;
Speed on, speed on my comrades
On the Indian we must gain
But fell to death did Sert's Wild
Bold Rider of the Plain.

This corps has since been strengthened
To number one thousand strong,
Yet their duties are extended
To the far off Youkon,
Where men of every nation,
In working on their claim,
Are receiving full protection from
The Riders of the Plain.

But now that plain's transforming,
To those of fertile fields,
The settlers, in hundreds are coming
To their plough it steadily yields,
But low; there's a pleasant reflection,
To those who seek home and gain,
For their hearts must ever remember,
The Riders of the Plain.

COMMENTS

In a few weeks the electors will be called upon to select members of the second legislature of the province. That the government of the province has accomplished excellent results in all departments during its term of office is beyond doubt and it is equally beyond doubt that the present government will be returned to power. It seems the plain duty of the electors residing within the electoral district of which Macleod is the centre to send to Edmonton as their best representative a man who is thoroughly in sympathy with the policy of the government so far as it affects the development of the southern part of the province, so that the arm of the government may be strengthened in its efforts towards that development. It is easy reasoning that if the people of Macleod send to Edmonton a representative who is out of touch and out of sympathy with the government and its policies the district will be apt to get even less of political favor than its minimum right. It seems a pity that such is the case, but experience proves the existence of such a state of affairs and there can be little hope for a perfect remedy until there comes into existence a well-nigh perfect government composed of well-nigh perfect members.

Not every government supporter however can adequately represent a constituency. In this new province the work of a member of the legislature is not an easy task. The province is and for some years will necessarily remain in its formative stage. There is much work to be done, much more than becomes the task of a member of the legislative assembly of one of the eastern provinces where much of the work analogous to that done by members of our provincial assembly is done by county and township councils. A representative ought to keep himself in touch with his constituents and adopt some means of keeping those constituents informed at all times of the progress of legislation. To do this he must himself have a familiar knowledge of current legislation and the common sense and business perspicacity to know whether any and what legislation ought to be passed, what amended and what expunged altogether from the statute book. He should be in a position at any and all times to meet his constituents and advise them at once of special or general legislation bearing upon their particular cases. He should be energetic, honest and progressive with at least a fair ability; good sense, tact and patience, and above all he should be heartily loyal to his constituents, his constituency and his province.

Who is the man for the job? That is the important question that is before the people of Macleod and it demands an early solution. Is such a man arising or has he arisen and is he available?

The calling of the Liberal nominating convention has started the political ball rolling in this constituency. A number of probable candidates are spoken of on both sides. The Liberals have a choice among J. W. McDonald, A. F. Grady, T. Dickson and Col'n Genge while the Conservatives probable candidates mentioned most prominently are R. G. MacDonnell, E. P. McNeil, M. C. Maclean. Mayor Grier will in all probability take the Conservative nomination from the Claresholm constituency, at least it is rumored that an invitation has been extended asking him to do so.

That Malcolm McKenzie will contest the Claresholm constituency in the interest of the Rathernford government seems to be an accepted fact.

The newly arranged constituency of Macleod taking the north-west corner of the Peigan reserve as a starting point goes from there east to the northeast corner of the reserve thence following the Old Man river to the east boundary of the district, which is the junction of the Old Man and Belly rivers; thence to the east boundary of the Blood reserve, following the east boundary to township 4; thence west to the west boundary of township 5, range 27; thence north to the Peigan reserve and following the boundaries of the Peigan reserve to the place of beginning.

The final session of the first legislature of Alberta drew to a conclusion Thursday at 5 o'clock. It has been an important session. In fact one of the most important since Alberta became a province. In all 61 bills were passed. The most important of course was the act on the railway problems. The whole session, however, has been full of important measures and the administration is to be complimented on the good work done. There is little doubt but that the provincial election will be called inside of a month, indeed one can very safely conclude that it will be called for about the 20th or 25th of March.

"TUSCULUM," is full brother to "CINQUEVELLI," winner of many races including the Del Paso stakes, etc., "SUBTLE," winner of ten races as a two-year old and known as the "speed marvel" and who was recently sold as a brood mare to go to France at a fancy price to join the famous stud of Mon's Blanc, owner of the famous and high priced horse "FLYING FOX."

"TUSCULUM'S"

Success as a sire in this country is exceptional. Limited to but few mares of first-class breeding he produced the best two-year old of 1908, "TUSCULETTE," out of "LADY BEAR," and in 1910 he will show the best bunch of two-year-olds ever sired by one stallion in Alberta. Common ranges make the coal man smile.

Is your Coal Wasted or Used?

It is comparatively easy to build a range that will make a lot of heat, but it requires the exact science of Pandora range building to produce a range that will use all the heat in the coal without waste.

A common range may burn twice the coal that a Pandora will, and yet do only half the work.

If you use a Pandora range you can be certain that your coal money is not wasted, but used.
